JST Partners with Oakland Schools Technical Centers

Job Skill Technology Inc. CEO and President William B. Mauro announces today the formation of an educational partnership with Oakland Schools Technical Centers to provide simulation software and curriculum for Oakland Schools Technical Centers and the Walter P. Chrysler Academy. JST has revealed a comprehensive curriculum for Delmia's IGRIP software and courses to train their staff. This is the first program nationally for high school students and will allow high school aged students to learn the same software being utilized by General Motors, Daimler Chrysler, Boeing and NASA. We are proud to be a part of such an exciting and innovative venture to introduce and train the engineers of the future.

Job Skill Technology, Inc. is headquartered in Auburn Hills, MI and specializes in providing technology, curriculum, service and support for education and training.
