Lansing Public Schools expands Plato Learning usage

Job Skill Technology, Inc. (JST) is proud to announce that Lansing Public Schools is expanding their use of Plato Learning software.

Lansing Public Schools continues to grow their partnership with JST, Inc. by expanding the use of PLATO Learning curricula. The program has been highly rated by students and staff. Students are engaged by the age-appropriate lessons and are improving their academic skills. The program has been utilized by various student groups at the secondary level. The teaching staff is excited about the ability to meet individual student needs. In addition, Lansing has added the EDUTEST Assessment Program. This will allow them the ability to assess their student on-line and better address their students learning needs. Lansing's partnership with JST, Inc. is exemplary. JST provides consultative services, training and implementation support, helping to ensure that the program is run successfully in the district.
